

GHOUL-PROOF VAULT HOLDS BODY OF SAGE

With Simple Ceremony Burial Is Held at Troy.

TOMB OF CHILLED STEEL

"I Have Done the Best that I Could," Reads the Inscription on the Monument.

TROY, July 25.—The body of Russell Sage was consigned to mother earth in Oakwood Cemetery this afternoon. The same simplicity that characterized the deceased's life was apparent in the transfer of the body to its last resting place.

The body arrived in this city on the Saratoga Special at 1:30 o'clock. But two funeral monuments were brought from New York to this city. One was an immense wreath of purple asters, white roses and galax leaves mounted on sage palm and Japanese lilies, sent by the dead banker's office staff. There was also a cluster of lilies of the valley cut from the flower garden at the Sage summer home at Lawrence, L. I.

Beside His First Wife. The funeral party proceeded from the union station to Oakwood, where a large number of persons had gathered at the Sage family plot. After a brief service read by Rev. Dr. Andrew Hageman, of New York, the body was committed to the ghoulish-proof vault of chilled steel ready for its reception. The grave is beside that of Mr. Sage's first wife. The words which are to be engraved on the Sage monument are: "I have done the best that I could, by the light of the day."

Russell Sage's body started on its last journey to-day in the funeral car "Kessico," which left the Grand Central Station at 9:45 over the New York Central road. The funeral party left the Sage home, No. 62 Fifth avenue, immediately after a short service conducted by the Rev. Hageman, of the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, who offered a short prayer and read a psalm.

In the funeral car were Mrs. Sage, her brother, Col. J. Slocum, Major Flocum, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Chapin, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Munn, Dr. Carl Schmeck, Dr. Lancelotti and eight other persons. Mr. Sage's home, No. 62 Fifth avenue, was taken to prevent any strange such as happened to the body of A. J. Stewart.

The car was attached to the Saratoga and Montreal Special, in charge of Conductor Mitchell. At the station was a detail of eight policemen from the East Fifty-first street station in charge of the funeral train, but they had nothing to do. It was said that the train would be guarded for several days.

HOW STEWART BODY WAS STOLEN AWAY AFTER HIS BURIAL.

The remarkable preparations made to guard the body of Russell Sage against thefts recall the description of the grave of Alexander T. Stewart, the dry goods millionaire. Thirty years have passed since the body of Mr. Stewart was stolen from St. Mark's churchyard, on Second avenue, and there is no official record that it was ever recovered.

Up in the Mountains!

One has but a poor idea of the hundreds of beautiful spots up in the Catskills or Adirondacks, where a two weeks' vacation will add materially to happiness, health and longevity. Neither has one a correct idea of how inexpensive a vacation may be made until he has consulted the Morning World's "Summer Resort" Announcements.

Then He Knows All About It!

TWO LIFE SKETCHES OF UNCLE JOE CANNON

"I have always said, and I repeat it now, that a man is a damn fool to say anything when he ain't got anything to say."

KEEP AGOING AND YOU'LL WIN, SAYS "UNCLE JOE"

Speaker Cannon Talks of Damn Fools, Coney Island, Singing, Beer Drinking, Indigestion and Growing Old.

An old man—seventy years young—gray-headed and bewiskered like a second edition of Abraham Lincoln, and breakfasted on corn pone, bacon and coffee four hours late to-day. He had the aspects of a rail-splitter and stored away his food, reminiscent of the frequent attempts of the near-statement and high financiers who tried to draw his attention.

Then He Took a See-Gar. "Gimme a see-gar," "Uncle Joe" called to the waiter, as he scraped the last plate clean. "Now, I haven't got a word to say, but a word," he replied, when asked about his trip to Coney Island. "No, sir, not a word about anything," he continued, deliberately, raising his right hand in emphasis. "I have always said, and I repeat it now, that a man is a damn fool to say anything when he ain't got anything to say."

FIREMEN HELP TO RESTORE HER $1,000

Subscription May Make Up Widow Sullivan's Lost Insurance Cash.

The $1,004 lost yesterday by Mrs. Agnes Sullivan, of No. 364 Park avenue, while on the way to the Greenwich Savings Bank, Fifteenth street and Sixth avenue, has not been found, and hope of its recovery has almost vanished. Mrs. Sullivan had drawn the $1,000 from the New York Fire Department Insurance Fund, being the amount her husband, a fireman of twenty-one years' standing, and who recently died, was insured for.

BATONYIS LOCKED OUT.

NEWPORT, July 25.—Frank Work, the aged owner of Elm Court, occupied for years by his daughter, Mrs. F. Burke-Loobe, now Mrs. Aurel Batonyis, has ordered locks placed on all the gates leading to the estate, and the caretaker has been told to refuse admittance to any person not allowed by one or more of the grandchildren of Mr. Work to break through the gates or step on the velvet lawn. The blinds of the white brick house have been painted black by Mrs. Work's order.

HORSE ANCHORED IN DEEP TRENCH BY IRON LOAD

10,000 Watch Rescue of Animal by Derrick in Fulton Street.

A big truck horse in a trench in front of 197 Fulton street, near Church street, kept a score of men busy for an hour working to extricate him to-day. Tied up the Fulton street cross-town line and furnished to some 10,000 busy New Yorkers an opportunity to stand around and offer advice.

The horse was frightened out in his struggles, but this did not deter many women from fighting their way to the front line of spectators and holding their position until the poor animal was extricated. The trench is wide and deep and is filled with electric light and telephone wire conduits. Andrew Hill, a driver for Patrick Riordan, a Jersey City truckman, was driving down Fulton street with a truckload of iron when, in front of No. 197, he pulled across to the trench to pass a big brewery truck coming from the opposite direction.

CHEMIST IN CELL TAKES MORPHINE

Freeman Found Unconscious, Though He Had Been Carefully Searched for Poison.

Walter K. Freeman, an expert chemist, who was last night arrested on the charge of misappropriating $250 from Parks, Davis & Co., one of the largest manufacturing chemical-houses in the country, was found unconscious in his cell at Police Headquarters to-day. The pupils of his eyes were contracted, respiration was weak and his hands were cold and damp. Doctors from St. Vincent's Hospital said he had taken a narcotic, the nature of which, at first puzzled them. His condition is improving.

Thought He Was Taft. "Everybody treated us very nicely. They were all around us all the time trying to get us to see this and that. When we were in Louis Park a man came up to me and said, 'Mr. Taft, will you come and see my show?' I said, 'but I must deny the soft impression. I don't feel quite so young.' But the power was dead. I know somebody had told him I was the Secretary of War." "I had a great time," said his friend, Mr. Busby. "He even raved on one of the stepladder horses, taking a goodly amount of time to tell me that he had two girls who were on another horse, and the speaker seemed to be very much interested in the subject. He said the speaker reached the hotel, but he was not at all fatigued."

GIANT PRISONER IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Brass Knuckles and Pistol Found on Bridgeport Fugitive When Arrested.

(Special to The Evening World.) ELIZABETH, N. J., July 25.—Detectives have arrested Alexander Herman, who is charged with the murder of Martin Korznick on the stoop of his home, Clinton street, Bridgeport, Conn., on the night of July 4. It is said the prisoner was infuriated with Korznick's wife, and a bitter feud had existed between the two men. The man, who is a giant in build, was searched a pair of brass knuckles, a loaded revolver, and a pistol. His capture was made in the Jersey Central transfer yards here, where he was employed. Detective Simmons, of Bridgeport, has identified him.

FIRE ALL THE 'KEYS' AND PUT 'MIKES' ON JOB

A Curious Rivalry in Messenger Strike at Produce Exchange.

A striking coincidence, indeed! When the thirty A. D. T. messengers employed in the Produce Exchange branch concluded to strike to-day they chose as their leader a boy named Otto Kusch. The hour for reporting is 8 o'clock. A. M. Manager Shea was momentarily speechless when he found the whole crowd on hand ahead of time. They held a conference on the corner and then Otto Matzema—beg pardon—Otto Kusch approached the manager as a committee of one and made these demands: "You're all fired."

Every other Saturday afternoon two cents for every message delivered in the Wall street district instead of a cent and a half. When Manager Shea had digested the demands he said to Otto (beg pardon—Otto Kusch), these were fair words. "You're all fired."

GOSHEN HONORS A REAL FIRE FIGHTER.

Organizes a Department and Makes Downey Chief, with a Gold Badge.

(Special to The Evening World.) GOSHEN, N. Y., July 25.—Goshen is to have a real fire department, with a real chief and a big gold badge. It is a result of a fire that destroyed the barn on the McKewen place on Monday night. Through the heroic efforts of J. Downey, who organized a bucket brigade, the fire was kept to the barn, although the handsome McKewen residence was now being collected for the erection of suitable quarters and the purchase of fire apparatus, and Downey has been appointed chief. He will receive his handsome gold badge on Saturday night from Mrs. C. J. Downey, wife of the McKewen-Furey, the Presentation Committee.

THE ARK IS IN. The Princess Alice has arrived with 50,000 napkins, canaries and parrots, a champagne, gottita and two balloons. The champagne and balloons were sent to the ark and the ark is said to be the strongest ever brought here.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble presses upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, heats the nerves and causes nervousness and general debility. It is a disease that is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine is scanty, if the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose. Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent bottles, in one-dollar bottles, in two-dollar bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Book of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials, letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
